

Acora Acoustics Presents:

Special appearances by Jazz Pianist & Singer Anne Bisson

Join us in the Eisenhower room, Friday & Saturday @ 12 noon & 3 PM

For a very special show treat, visit Acora Acoustics in the Eisenhower room on Friday and Saturday at 12 noon and 3 PM for live, in-person, unmiked performances by Anne Bisson. She will be joined by her recorded accompaniment playing via our system featuring the Acora Acoustics SRC-2.

Seating will be limited so arrive early to grab your seat.

She will also be offering signed copies of her music, including her new release “Keys to My Heart” as well as additional releases throughout the show in our Eisenhower showroom.

Anne’s path as an artist has taken many turns, none of them mundane. She’s been a singer/songwriter and pianist since childhood, and she now heads her own record company. Her albums have been steadily selling in more than 25 countries around the world.

Her many years on television as actress and host of her own show have given her the poise and confidence she has been displaying on stage for many years. Her ebullient personality and charisma, along with the unsurpassed high fidelity quality of her recordings, have captivated an ever-growing public. So much so, that in 2018, her album Blue Mind won Best Female Vocal Album at the AV Fair in Guangzhou, China.

Anne accompanies herself on the piano with remarkable grace and elegance, while singing melodies that are both touching and true to heart. It’s a stirring fusion of poetry and jazz, with a warm voice that thrills and enchants from the very first note.
